SIDUS NFT HEROES

A New Game That Addresses Shortcomings in the Blockchain and Traditional Gaming Industries, SIDUS HEROES is a new Play-to-Earn, NFT and RPG game that is about to compete with AAA-level video games and set new standards in the blockchain gaming market. The game inherits traditional NFT gaming attributes like a DAO community and NFTization of in-game items.

SIDUS HEROES also addresses issues that are relevant to the blockchain industry, for instance low content quality and lack of fascinating storylines that keep players gripped.

SIDUS HEROES is powered by advanced technologies, including blockchain, NFT, advanced mathematical algorithms and WebGL. Team has been working on WebGL technology for 3 years to achieve the quality of graphics and characteristic detalization it has. Advanced technologies coupled with breathtaking scenarios make SIDUS HEROES a one-of-a-kind NFT game.

PROJECT OVERVIEW

SIDUS NFT HEROES

The game is set in a space metaverse at a time when technological advancements have reached the level of merging with all living beings. All characters belong to one of several blockchain races and embody that chain's strongest attributes. The game provides users with multiple gaming scenarios: interstellar exploration, battles and settlements, as well as scope for political, social and economic development.

The NFT Heroes collection features 6000 unique characters. To access the game players need to have an NFT from the Genesis (SIDUS: NFT Heroes) or the Academy (coming up soon) collections. The closed beta version of the game (Jan 10th) will be available only to the holders of NFTs from the Genesis collection. Starting from Jan 23rd, the game will be open to holders of both collections.
